Review of the Gender Recognition Act 2004: A Consultation

You can use this form to respond to the main questions in the Scottish Government's review of the Gender Recognition Act 2004. If you would like to see or complete the full consultation online, you can do so at: https://consult.gov.scot/family-law/review-of-the-gender-recognition-act-2004/

Question 1. (Paragraphs 3.01-3.29 of the consultation)

The initial view of Scottish Government is that applicants for legal gender recognition should no longer need to produce medical evidence or evidence that they have lived in their acquired gender for a defined period. The Scottish Government proposes to bring forward legislation to introduce a self-declaratory system for legal gender recognition instead.

Do you agree or disagree with this proposal?

☑ Agree  ☐ Disagree  ☐ Don't know

If you want, you can give a reason for your answer or add comments

Since only a small percentage of world population might want to come to support the idea of gender change, I see no need for revising the current law, which I encourage.

Question 5. (Paragraphs 4.04 – 4.07)

(This question relates to the reduction of the minimum age of applicants for legal gender recognition to those aged 16 and over from the current age of 18. Question 6 will ask your views on the options for people younger than 16).

The Scottish Government proposes that people aged 16 and 17 should be able to apply for and obtain legal recognition of their acquired gender. Do you agree or disagree?

☐ Agree  ☐ Disagree  ☑ Don't know

If you want, you can give a reason for your answer or add comments

I believe age of puberty would be time for young folk to make up their own mind. The new law is clear that twelve/fourteen years of age for gender jump-off.
