The initial view of Scottish Government is that applicants for legal gender recognition should no longer need to produce medical evidence or evidence that they have lived in their acquired gender for a defined period. The Scottish Government proposes to bring forward legislation to introduce a self-declaratory system for legal gender recognition instead.

Agree

If you want, you can give reasons for your answer, or make comments.: Saints LGBT+ believes that this proposal is important because a self-declaratory system, without a need for medical evidence is vital for transgender/non-binary people who do not desire medical gender confirmation, those who have not been able to afford it, or those whose occupation will not allow it.

2 Should applicants to the proposed gender recognition system in Scotland have to provide a statutory declaration confirming they know what they are doing and intend to live in their acquired gender until death?

No

If you want, you can give reasons for your answer or make comments.: Gender is flexible and can change.

3 Should there be a limit on the number of times a person can get legal gender recognition?

No

If you want, you can give reasons for your answer or make comments.:

4 If the Scottish Government takes forward legislation to adopt a self-declaration system for legal gender recognition, should this arrangement be open:

B. to everyone?

If you want, you can give reasons for your answer or make comments.: At the University of St Andrews, which Saints LGBT represents, there are multiple international transgender students who would benefit if this policy was extended to all those who have a visa.

5 The Scottish Government proposes that people aged 16 and 17 should be able to apply for and obtain legal recognition of their acquired gender. Do you agree or disagree?

Agree

If you want, you can give reasons for your answer or add comments.:

6 Which of the identified options for children under 16 do you most favour?

Option 3 – parental application

If you want, you can give reasons for your answer, add comments, or describe your preferred option if none of the options given reflects your views.:

Marriage and Civil Partnership

7 Should it be possible to apply for and obtain legal gender recognition without any need for spousal consent?

Yes

If you want, you can give reasons for your answer or add comments.:

8 Civil partnership is only available to same sex couples. This means that the civil partners cannot remain in their civil partnership if one of them wishesto obtain a full Gender Recognition Certificate.

Yes

If you want, you can give reasons for your answer or add comments.:

9 Should legal gender recognition stop being a ground of divorce or dissolution?
If you want, you can give reasons for your answer or add comments.

Yes
If you want, you can give reasons for your answer or add comments.

Non-binary people

12 Should Scotland take action to recognise non-binary people?
Yes
If you answered No, and if you want, you can give reasons for your answer.

13 If you answered Yes to Question 12, which of the identified options to give recognition to non-binary people do you support? You can select more than one option.

If you want, you can give reasons for your answer, add comments or, if you think none of Options 1 to 6 is suitable, describe your preferred option.

14 At paragraph 7.26. and in Annex J we have identified the consequential legal impacts if non-binary people could obtain legal gender recognition using the proposed self-declaration system.
Don't know
If you answered Yes, describe the impacts you have identified.

Conclusion

15 Do you have any comments about, or evidence relevant to:
No
If you answered Yes, add your comments or evidence.

16 Do you have any further comments about the review of the Gender Recognition Act 2004?
Yes
If you answered Yes, add your comments.
The transgender and non-binary community of St Andrews, as well as its allies, would greatly appreciate the Scottish government's attention to this important issue.
