Subject: PROTECT OF SEALS FRO HARRASSMENT

The new harassment offense also brought in by the Marine (Scotland) Act will offer additional protection for seals at haul-out sites when they are at their most vulnerable. On 22 March 2011, Marine Scotland launched a consultation on seal haul out sites which proposes a list of designated sites for protection from harassment.

My family and I agree with the proposal of providing a list of designated haul-out sites that are meant to give protection to seals from harassment.
