

Example social posts (Twitter)

There are two types of interlinked fire alarms:

- You can fit sealed battery alarms yourself.
- Mains-wired alarms should be installed by a qualified electrician.

Safer
Scotland
Scottish
Government

mygov.scot/firealarms

Don't give scammers a chance.
If a contractor is installing your new fire alarms, make sure they are qualified and reputable.

Safer
Scotland
Scottish
Government

mygov.scot/firealarms

When getting interlinked fire alarms installed, avoid rogue traders.

To find a tradesperson,
visit approvedtrader.scot
or certificationregister.co.uk

Safer
Scotland
Scottish
Government

mygov.scot/firealarms

The law on fire alarms has changed.

Every home now needs to have interlinked fire alarms, alerting people to danger quicker no matter where they are in their home.

Safer
Scotland
Scottish
Government

mygov.scot/firealarms